In the 30 some years I have been alive, my government has transitioned from a state for the people, by the people, to a corporate entity paid to attack and monitor the people. America is falling from its position as a world leader, because we are no longer the land of the free. We are the land of "free speech areas" with monitored conversations, which can lead to secret trials where evidence doesn't need to be presented. That's if you're lucky enough to have a trial at all.

Our citizens are what we should be concerned with, but not in a criminal sense. We need to invest in our future with infrastructure, education, and health care. Our problems are not who are talking to who, but a nation straddled with no opportunity, and financial devastation all around us.

Please rethink this absurd police state, and refocus that time and energy on expanding our citizen's power.
