Zoosk authenticates phone number when users sign in to a user account

What are ways I can verify my account?

Verifying your account is a great way to improve your reputation and let other Zoosk members know you are who you say you are.*

You can verify your account by connecting it to your Facebook or Twitter accounts, verifying your photos, or by verifying your cell phone number. If you choose to verify your account using Facebook or Twitter, Zoosk will not tweet or post to Facebook on your behalf.

* Your online and offline safety is your responsibility and should be your top priority. Although we may offer ways for members to verify their accounts, these are purely for your convenience, are dependent on information provided by third parties or other members, and does not in any way guarantee the identity of a member.

How Does Zoosk Work? A Beginner's Guide To Dating Success

Step 2: Deck out your profile

Now it's time to select a catchy display name. Think of this as your dating codename! It has to be short, so we'd recommend using something memorable. A clever username is a great conversation starter!

Are you looking for real people with real intentions? We've got you. Zoosk members can verify their social accounts, photos, and phone number. The more of these that you verify, the better, so don't be shy on the details.

	CROSS DEVICE TRACKING If you log in to your account with us using multiple devices (for instance, your phone and laptop), we will link your devices to your account. This allows us to provide a seamless user experience to you. We also work with third parties to employ technologies, including the application of statistical modelling tools, which attempt to recognize you across multiple devices so that we understand how you use our Service across various devices, to ensure the safety and security of your data and the Company Services, to show you targeted advertising (with your consent) tailored to your interests and experience, and to measure the performance of advertising campaigns. PRIVACY POLICY Source: https://docviewer.zoosk.com/legal-privacy-en.html

How can I improve my matches and SmartPick introductions?

When you do things such as send a message, accept a connection, or express interest in someone, Zoosk's learns more about your preferences and is able to use that information to help introduce you to people who we believe you'll be interested in.*

- Respond to People

If you get a message, a smile, a like or a connection request don't ignore it! When you accept, decline write back, or delete a message you're telling us more about what you do and don't like.

Zoosk matching tools include the Carousel, SmartPick, and Dating Insights.

- Carousel

- Quickly connects like-minded singles who are interested in each other. There are 3 sections to the Carousel, Play, Interested and Mutual
- The Carousel shows you a picture of a member and their age (no other information). It then asks you a question if you would like to meet them. You can answer "Yes", "Maybe", or "No"
- If you are interested in the member, selecting "Yes" or "Maybe" will send the other member a notification stating that you would like to meet them and ask them if they would like to meet you as well. If you are not interested in meeting the person, choose "No" and move to the next person
- The Interested section of the Carousel shows anyone that has said "Yes" or "Maybe" to your profile photo but you have yet answered the question about them
- The Mutual section shows where both you and the member have both said "Yes". This is considered a mutual match
- If you and another member both say yes to each other, you can then use Zoosk coins to unlock each other's profiles and start interacting

Zoosk Viewing & Communication Features

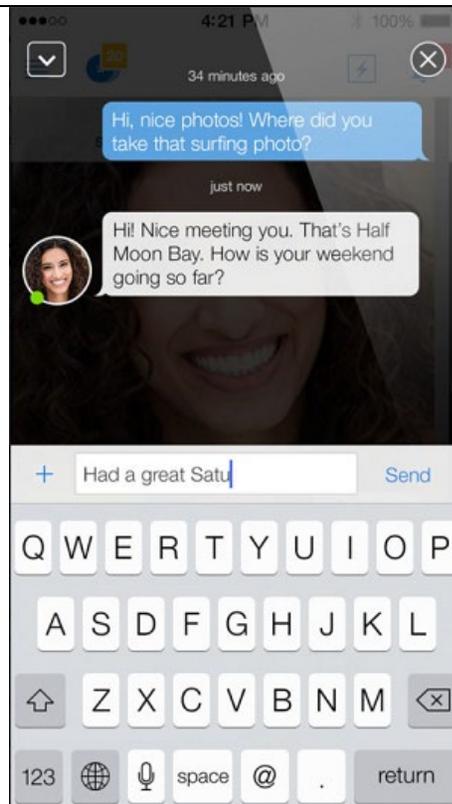

Zoosk has a number of tools which allows you to communicate easily with other members on the service. These tools range in functionality from breaking the ice (to hopefully start a more meaningful conversation) to live chatting. These tools are available on all platforms that Zoosk service is available on including their website, Facebook app, and mobile phone apps.

Messages

- This is your inbox for all your mail messages and to see who has liked or smiled at you
- Messages are prioritized in your inbox to list the most compatible members first. See the article about Zoosk's priority inbox feature for more information
- Subscription is required to read messages and view your likes or smiles unless the person who sent them has upgraded their subscription with Premium Messaging. If this is the case you will be able to read and send that member messages

Zoosk's server is configured to locate information about the second user from a social network file of the second user, and transmit this information to the first mobile communications device (find), disclose social network attributes such as a picture, name, and a location of first and second users

Searching

Search is the first item on the Zoosk main menu. Clicking or tapping it will bring up your first result using your default basic search settings. The search returns one result at a time showing you their main profile photo (a green check mark icon indicates the photo has been verified), first name, age, location, and height. If you see a light green solid circle icon that indicates that the person was online recently. A dark green solid circle icon means that they are online right now. At this point you can view their full profile, send a smile, like or message. If none of these options appeal to you, you can then go to the next profile. You can also switch your search view to an image gallery format if your display is large enough allowing up to 28 profile summaries a page.

Zoosk's server is operable to disclose location of first and second users in the vicinity or within a particular distance from one another for the purpose of connecting members.

How do I limit or change the distance of people I see while searching?

Zoosk's advanced search filters allow you to change the distance of the people you're searching for so you can find people who are closer or farther away.

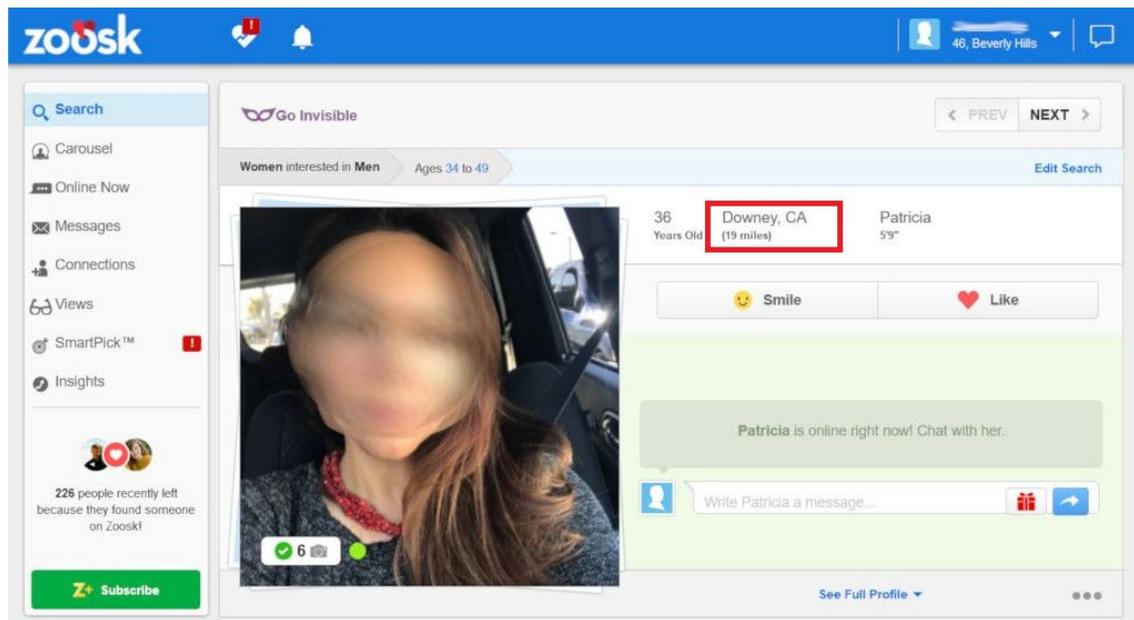

To create and save an advanced search with the distance filter that you'd like, follow the directions below for the device you're using.

From your computer's web browser

1. Open your web browser, go to zoosk.com, and log in to your Zoosk account.
2. Select Search from the left navigation.
3. Click the blue Edit Search link in the top right of your screen underneath the grey NEXT
4. Click the drop-down menu next to Search distance and select the distance you'd like to search for.
5. If you'd like to save you search, select the check box next to Save this search and give your search a name.
6. Click the blue Search This will save and apply the search filters you've created.
7. Please note that advanced search filters only apply to Search and do not change who you see in Carousel or your SmartPick introductions
