Date: July 8, 2013 8:03:25 PM EDT
To: [REDACTED]

Dear Mr Lessig

We will be commencing legal proceedings against the following for copyright infringement in the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts

Lawrence Lessig

[REDACTED]
Brookline, MA 02446

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

This will commence in 72 hours if this claim is not retracted and the video removed.

The process for retraction is as follows:

If the uploader would like to retract his counter notification, they may do so by responding directly to the email they received from YouTube confirming that YouTube forwarded the counter to the party that sent the takedown notification. It should go to copyright@youtube.com

This is your official notice and warning of the commencement of these proceedings

What are the consequences of copyright infringement?

On YouTube, the consequences of copyright infringement are simple. We comply with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act(DMCA) and other applicable copyright laws. Under these laws, we remove videos when properly notified that they violate copyright.

In addition, copyright owners may choose to sue for infringement. In the U.S., copyright infringement may result in statutory damages of up to $150,000 per work and, in some cases, criminal penalties.

We have received the attached counter-notification in response to a complaint you filed with us.

We're

providing you with the counter-notification and await your notice (in not more than 10 business days) that you've filed an action seeking a court order to restrain the counter notifier's allegedly infringing activity. Such notice should be submitted by replying to this email. If we do not receive notice from you, we may reinstate the material to YouTube.

If you have any questions, please contact ukcopyright@youtube.com.
