1 Using my email address, richard.clapp@gmail.com, instead of my actual name, in order to 2 protect my identity pursuant to my rights under the First Amendment and California law, I declare 3 as follows:

4 1. I am the owner of the email account richard.clapp@gmail.com. I have personal 5 knowledge of all matters set forth in this declaration. If called upon to do so, I could and would 6 testify to all matters set forth herein.

7 2. I am providing this declaration under my email address because I wish to protect my 8 rights to free speech and participation in associational activities. I also wish to avoid making moot 9 these very issues, which I have raised in this motion. A true and correct copy of my actual 10 signature for this document resides with my attorneys.

11 3. On September 17, 2012, I received a notice from Google of a subpoena issued in 12 Chevron, Corp. v. Donziger et al., Case No. 11-0691 (LAK) (S.D.N.Y.) for identifying and email
13 usage information associated with my email address. I am not a defendant in that case. I am now 14 moving to quash this subpoena.

15 4. I am an epidemiologist. I have worked for many years on human rights, environmental 16 and social justice projects and campaigns. I am currently a consultant and adjunct faculty at a 17 United States university. I am also a blogger and have contributed to three blogs.

18 5. I was involved in the litigation against Chevron in Ecuador in 2008. I have not been 19 connected to the litigation or political campaign surrounding the Chevron case since that time.

20 6. I have had this email address since 2006. I have used it as my primary account ever 21 since.

22 7. Keeping my account and location information private is important to me for personal 23 and professional reasons. I have used this email address for my private personal communications as 24 well as in my communications with my colleagues for work-related matters. I have also used it 25 many times to communicate with sources while writing for various blogs.

26 8. I have used this email account to engage in personal and professional communications
27 for approximately six years. It is important to me that Chevron not have access to all my email 28 usage information and locations during that time period.

1 9. Had I known that my email usage information and location would be revealed, my 2 activity at the time I was assisting with the litigation against Chevron would have been chilled.

3 10. I am no longer active in the litigation against Chevron and have not been for some time, 4 but should Chevron gain access to my private email usage records, it would intimidate me and 5 deter me from engaging in activism or litigation against Chevron in the future. I know of others
6 who have stopped or chosen not to become involved in human rights or environmental activism
7 involving Chevron for fear of harassment or retribution.

8 11. Should Chevron gain access to my account information, it would chill my activity more 9 generally as well, knowing personal information about my email use and location could be 10 revealed concerning any activity that I might engage in. My use of my email account as a blogger 11 in communicating with confidential sources would be chilled if it were possible that their identities 12 could be disclosed. Sources that I have previously communicated with and will want to 13 communicate with again may be less inclined to correspond with me if their identities could be 14 revealed. Furthermore, my participation in future political and activism campaigns will be chilled if 15 Google releases my identity and the details of my usage to Chevron.

16 12. I feel harassed by Chevron's attempt to obtain my email usage records and fear further 17 harassment should Chevron gain access to the details of my prior involvement in the litigation and 18 political campaign against Chevron.

19 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the 20 foregoing is true and correct. Executed on October 19 2012.
